

OUTLAWED RAIL WORKERS AGAIN BEGIN TROUBLE

Mischief Makers Attempt To Throw Transportation Into Chaos

"ONE BIG UNION" IDEA

Would Stage Revolt Among Workers To Attain Ends.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The outlaw railroad workers have become active again.

Under the leadership of John Gruneau of Chicago, the "outlaw" workers are making preparations to throw transportation into chaos through sporadic strikes and to bring about a nation wide secession movement from the ranks of the "big four" brotherhoods and the American Federation of Labor railroad union, according to information received here today in official labor circles.

Their goal is said to be one big union movement of all railroad workers. They have sent agitators, according to advices, into railroad districts, particularly New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the midwest to stir up the already dissatisfied and restless railroad workers to revolt against the leaders of the unions.

Their operations, it is claimed, are part of a widespread movement to incite revolt until the "one big union" idea has swept the great mass of organized labor. They are said to be linked in their activities with elements in the American Federation of Labor, "boring from within" under the inspiration of William Z. Foster, leading spirit in last year's steel strike. Before his departure for Russia to attend the "third international" and confer with Lenin and other bolshevik leaders, Foster laid the seed for a campaign to organize all the railroad crafts into one union along the lines of the federation of railroad workers in England, it is declared in labor circles here.

Gruneau has declared that 15,000 members of the American Federation of Labor railroad unions on the Pennsylvania system are ready to revolt against their leadership and join his one big union known as the United Federation of Railway Employees. He has also announced that the marine firemen, oilers and water tenders of the union affiliated with the railway employees department of the federation of labor and drawing its membership from the ferry boats has applied for a charter in his organization through its president, P. Lynch, of New York City.

Leaders here expressed apprehension over Gruneau's activities. The railroad workers chafing under the reins held by their leaders to keep them in line, "sore" at wage cuts and the attitude of the carriers on working rules and conditions offer fertile field to the one big union agitators, they say and an outlaw strike at this time "would spread like wildfire" causing havoc not only to the railroads but the railroad unions.

A large part of Gruneau's organization is made up of secessionists and expelled members of the brotherhood of trainmen, it is charged.

AMENDMENT TO LEGALIZE HOME BREW IS BELIEF

Washington, August 17.—Any householder could have home brew under interpretations placed upon an amendment to the Willis-McCampbell beer bill, approved by the house.

The amendment adopted as a substitute for a senate provision would require federal agents to have warrants before entering homes in search of liquor. It provides, however, that no warrant shall be issued for search of a home "unless there is reason to believe such dwelling is used as a place in which liquor is manufactured for sale or sold."

Representative Fields declaring the house amendment would virtually sanction "home brew," provided it was not made to be sold, attempted to have the words "for sale" stricken out.

OHIO STATE GRANGE HAS MOST MEMBERS

Columbus, Aug. 17.—The Ohio State Grange has a greater membership than any other farm organization in the state, and greater probably than in any other state, it is announced by W. G. Vandenberg, its secretary.

The annual count just completed by him shows 107,353 members. When it comes to men membership, however, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation excels with its 37,000. Few women are members of farm bureaus while many are grangers.

Ohio continues to lead in new pomona grangers organized in the last year, in net gain in membership and also in the number of juvenile granges. Vandenberg asserts. Twenty three new juvenile granges were organized the last three months.

Mrs. Harding has been her husband's stenographer and assistant for eight years, and she plans to continue aiding him in his practice.

Steel Theft Ring Nipped By Police of Detroit

Authorities Arrest Seven Men Whose Alleged Operations Extended Into Four States—Other Suspects Are Rounded Up.

Detroit, August 17.—A steel theft ring, whose operations extend into the four states, has been discovered in Detroit with the arrest here of seven men, police announced today.

A half dozen other suspects will be in custody by tonight they say. The ring is charged with stealing metals valued at several hundred thousand dollars from Detroit and Cleveland steel concerns and selling them in competition with the firms from which they were stolen.

Among them are already under arrest are:

Hyman Kramer, an official of the Wayne Steel Sales Company.

Reuben Kramer and Sam Kramer brothers of Hyman.

William Newton, yard superintendent of the Union Drawn Steel company.

Albert Langer, a railway yard foreman.

Earl Miller.

Ben Cohen, of Cohen and Kunsky, scrap metal dealers.

The alleged ring was uncovered by Charles Searle, a detective. He saw men loading steel on a truck in the yards of the Union Drawn Steel company at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning and investigated, with the result that in 24 hours police had records of the operation of the alleged ring.

Branch offices were maintained in Cleveland and Toledo to arrange for the sale of the metals, it is charged.

Police say they found $5,000 worth of tool steel, identified as stolen from the Union Drawn Steel Company in a yard conducted by the Kramer brothers at 5th and E Streets.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 17.—The first battle in the defense of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain charged jointly with Arthur C. Burch with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, is under way today as the result of an attempt being made to prevent the state from seizing a trunk belonging to the accused woman which arrived here late yesterday. After issuing orders to the management of the hotel which received the trunk not to allow anyone to touch it until a proper court order had been issued, Ralph Obenchain, divorced husband of the defendant, announced his intention of obtaining a restraining order to prevent the authorities from opening the receptacle. It was announced that officials of the district attorney's office planned to open the trunk this morning in the hope of finding something that might shed new light on the killing of Kennedy.

The trunk was forwarded to Mrs. Obenchain from San Francisco where she stopped before coming to Los Angeles.

Plans for procuring legal aid for Burch and Mrs. Obenchain are rapidly being formulated, it was stated today, and announcement of the names of attorneys who will represent the defendants probably will be made this afternoon or tonight. Obenchain asserted today he is satisfied with the evidence he is obtaining and that he had found witnesses whose testimony will "clearly substantiate" clear Mrs. Obenchain and Burch.

CLAIMS MISREPRESENTATION

Columbus, August 17.—That his wife misrepresented to him prior to their marriage is the claim made by William George, who has asked for a divorce from Mary George. He claimed his wife, three weeks after their marriage, brought into their home her child by a former marriage. He said that he had not known she had a child.

SMALL CHANGES PLANS ON PLEA OF HIS FAMILY

Collapse of "War" Program Due to Pressure of Requests.

SUBMITS TO ARREST

Governor Of Illinois To Allow Himself To Be Tried on Charge.

Springfield, Ill., August 17.—The sudden collapse of the "war" plans of Governor Len Small of Illinois, was due to family "pressure," it was learned here today.

The governor, it was reported has abandoned all plans to delay his trial on charges of misusing $2,500,000 in state interest funds and to test the legality of his arrest. In this decision, the governor entirely ignored the wishes of his legal advisers. He finally surrendered, his intimates said, to the pleas of Mrs. Small and members of the family.

The strain of his legal difficulties on members of his family, it was said had seriously concerned the governor. Since the issuance of bench warrants for the governor's arrest, Mrs. Small has gone into retirement at the family home in Kankakee. It was her wish it was said, that the governor abandon his war plans and go into court with the sole purpose of repudiating the charges brought against him in the Sangamon county court. The governor through counsel late yesterday accepted the offer of state's attorney C. Fred Mortimer to a change of venue from this county. The acceptance was based on four clauses, the principal one of which retained the right to file any future action on any phase of the case excepting change of venue.

All four clauses were accepted by the state's attorney in a reply made public here. The state's attorney declared his first offer had held no "catch," the governor's counsel having taken exception to certain wording.

Mortimer also agreed to the governor's suggestion that attorneys for both sides agree upon another county in which the case shall be tried. He announced that Judge E. S. Smith who issued the bench warrants for Small's arrest, would designate the circuit judge to decide the petition for a change of venue. This petition will be heard Tuesday, September 6. The jurist will be either Frank B. Burton or Judge Norman L. Jones.

WARNING GIVEN LAW VIOLATORS

Cleveland, August 17.—"You have violated a traffic regulation. Appear in court tomorrow." Thus reads cards which were handed out in Cleveland for the first time yesterday to motorists who had failed to comply with some section of the traffic code. A round dozen got the warning, and this morning, without the intervention of any blue coated guardian, appeared in court and received either a fine or warning.

PROHIBITION AGENTS CONDUCT 3 RAIDS

Middletown, O., August 17.—Headed by State Prohibition Inspector Drully and Assistant Romanish, Middletown police conducted three successful raids last night.

Eight barrels of home brew were confiscated at the cafe of Michael Vertich, five gallons of moonshine at William Horns, while "red" whiskey was found at a camp on Gregory Creek operated by Albert Dimmack, Jr.

Later Dimmack's grocery was raided but he had evidently been tipped off, for the officers found more than a wagon load of broken whiskey and gin bottles in cellar and attic, but no booze.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN U. S. NOW MENACE TO NATION; WORK FOR ALL SAYS DR. MEYER

Washington, August 17.—Unemployment has reached such proportions that it constitutes a grave menace to the nation unless checked before winter sets in, administration officials said today. Aroused by the report of Secretary of Labor Davis that there are 5,735,000 unemployed in the United States at this time, cabinet officials have begun consideration of measures to alleviate this condition. Congressional action also may be taken with a view to speeding up the economic readjustment which it is believed is essential to the correction of unemployment.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR QUILTS COURT AFTER DECISIVE DEFEAT

Forest Hills, L. I., Aug. 17.—Molla Bjurstedt Mallory is the greatest woman tennis player in the world.

This was the verdict today of thousands of ardent devotees of the net game who saw the Norse girl sweep Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen of France from the courts in the brief space of one set.

Technically, Mlle. Lenglen may still be the international champion but none who saw her defeat to the grim, determined and brilliant Molla after a swift and humiliating defeat in one set attaches any importance to mere technicalities.

Mlle. Lenglen's sudden and surprising action in quitting the court came like a bolt from a clear sky. She pleaded inability to continue the match owing to a sudden recurrence of after effects from an attack of bronchitis and was led to the clubhouse coughing and weeping hysterically. Today, at Forest Hills Inn, where Mlle. Lenglen is stopping with her mother, it was said that she will be confined to her room for a day or so. Her physician, according to attaches at the Inn, said her case is not a serious one but that she must have quiet and careful attention until relieved.

FIVE TO CONSTITUTE U. S. REPRESENTATION AT ARMS CONFERENCE

Washington, August 17.—Five is the number of American representatives at the coming conference on disarmament and Pacific and far eastern problems, President Harding is understood by Republican senators today to have tentatively agreed upon.

In addition to Secretary of State Hughes and Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee already designated by the president, former Secretary of State Elihu Root, Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Democrat and former Senator George Sutherland are the three others under consideration to sit on the conference as spokesmen for the United States.

To several Republican senators closely associated with the administration the president's list of the five men named has been shown and they are of the opinion that it has list will not be enlarged. It has been definitely and finally decided by the president that a woman shall not represent that a woman shall not represent the United States at the conference, they have also been informed, while the names of Senators Knox, former Secretary of State, and Borah, author of the original disarmament measure, are not under consideration.

IRISH REJECT BRITISH PEACE PLAN, HOSTILITIES THREATEN TO RESUME

Prospects Of Peace In Erin Rapidly Diminish Following Action of Sinn Fein Government Turning Down Offer Of Lloyd George.

ENGLISH TROOPS ARE RECALLED

Peace Terms Fall Short Of Dominion Form Of Government Leaders Declare—Press Not Entirely Sympathetic With Action.

Dublin, August 17.—The Irish peace negotiations were brought to the point of absolute collapse today when Eamonn DeValera, speaking in the Sinn Fein parliament, announced that the English peace offer would be rejected. Dail Eireann will draw up counter proposals which will be forwarded to Premier Lloyd George. DeValera's announcement that the English offer could not be accepted and that England had never offered Ireland dominion status caused a tremendous sensation.

Next in importance to DeValera's history making speech was a general order to the officers and men of the Irish republican army saying: "A republic exists in Ireland now and always will."

Dublin, August 17.—Eamonn DeValera, head of the Sinn Fein government today turned down the English peace proposals. This action had been foreshadowed in his defiant speech of Tuesday opening Dail Eireann when he said that the

ANTI BRITISH FORCES AT WORK

London, August 17.—"There is no secret that powerful anti-British influences have been at work in Ireland in the last few days endeavoring to destroy the atmosphere of peace," said the Daily Express today in commenting upon the Irish situation of the Daily Express was inclined to believe that Eamonn DeValera's speech was not the decisive Sinn Fein answer to the offer.

The Daily News forecasts that the English government would never recognize Ireland as a republic.

The London Times said that the members of the Sinn Fein parliament may take it for a fact that the English mind is made up and that "no rhetoric, no sophistry and no appeal to violence can move the electorates of Britain and her dominions to yield on the one cardinal point upon which the constitution of the empire rests." That one cardinal point, the Times points out, is loyalty to the king and admission of the sovereignty of the British government over the British empire.

Sinn Fein insisted upon an Irish republic and could not negotiate with the English government because it had no principle.

There is every prospect that the armistice will be broken off and hostilities will reopen in Ireland before another week has elapsed. Leaders of the Irish republican army declared at the opening of Dail Eireann that they would not attack the English unless they were attacked first but it is known that the radical republicans in Cork have been clamoring for a reopening of warfare against the British and the Sinn Fein chieftains have had a hard time restraining them.

A general order was read to the Irish republican army today to prepare for any contingency. The order forecast that the republican soldiers would be called upon to make greater sacrifices than at any time in the past.

When the truce went into effect both the Irish and the English gave pledges that a reasonable time would be given by both sides if it was decided to end the armistice.

English troops on leave of absence are returning to their regiments in Ireland, indicating that the British government believes that fighting may be renewed at any time.

Dail Eireann met in secret session today for a detailed personal report by DeValera on his peace negotiations with Premier Lloyd George. The Irish press was not entirely sympathetic with the attitude taken by DeValera and the heads of the Irish republican army. The Irish Times in its editorial comment said:

"Premier Lloyd George's offer was everything that the heart and the nation would desire. We are convinced that Dail Eireann will not withhold peace from Ireland because they are patriotic men and women. We pray that wisdom will guide their counsels in the cold gray dawn which is breaking over Ireland's darkened skies. May there burst through the leaden clouds God's glorious sunshine in the form of blessed peace."

The Irish Bulletin referred to General Smuts' letter, pointing out that Premier Lloyd George's offer fell short of dominion form of government for Ireland.

"No dominion could tolerate for a moment any of conditions laid down by the premier," said the Irish Bulletin. "Dominion status has a definite meaning and importance. That meaning is not to be found in the English peace offer."

There was an imposing scene at Mansion House when the second session of parliament opened. Crowds waited for hours for the doors to open for it had been advertised that the first part of the session would be open for the public. All available positions were taken before the 127 members were in their seats. Soldiers of the Irish republican army who had been wounded in battle with British soldiers and policemen were given seats of honor. Some hobbled on canes and others still wore bandages over their wounds.

"We cannot and will not accept the English peace terms," said DeValera in an address to the members. The Irish people are not going to be fooled this time. Ireland has not been offered dominion status. The Almighty placed Ireland as the neighbor of Britain and the Irish desire to be neighborly, and if Britain were wise she would be friendly. We do not desire to close up England's routes to the sea."

DeValera, Michael Collins, commander in chief of the Irish republican army and Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, occupied the "ministerial bench" in the front row of the meeting.

CONSPIRACY WILL FIGURE IN TRIAL OF ACCUSED YOUTH

Boy 18, Charged With Murder In Kentucky Court.

Whitesburg, Ky., August 17.—Beckham Bates, 18, is on trial here for the murder of Elijah Sergeant, at India Creek, in December 1919, which grew out of a conspiracy between young Bates, Uriah Bates and Mrs. James Sergeant, wife of the murdered man. A jury of Clark County citizens has been impaneled here. The hearing of Mrs. Sergeant will follow Bates' trial.

Besides a conspiracy, a love affair also, figured in the Sergeant murder.

Uriah Bates now serving 18 years in the Kentucky penitentiary, was in love with Edith Sergeant, 16 year old daughter of old man Sergeant, the murdered man, who opposed Bates. Without the father's consent, and with a forged certificate, he obtained a marriage license. An indictment followed against Bates, charging him with forgery. A compromise, however, was reported and the suit was dismissed from court.

On the 22nd of December, 1919, Sergeant was lured from his home, taken into the mountains and murdered with an old fashioned shot gun. His body was found a week later by searching parties.

The old fashioned shot gun was the identical weapon last seen in the hands of Uriah Bates, it is said on the day Sergeant disappeared after Uriah Bates was tried and given sentence in the penitentiary.

Beckham Bates confided in friends that he, instead of Uriah Bates, fired the shot that killed Sergeant. His indictment and arrest followed.

Miss Edith Sergeant will be one of the principal witnesses. It is expected that she will lay bare the plot that resulted in her father's death. Uriah Bates arrived yesterday under guard from Frankfort to be a witness in the case.

MAN DOOMED TO BE ROASTED TO DEATH

New York, Aug. 17.—Doomed by the American branch of the Sicilian Camorra to be "roasted to death" because he knew too much, Bartolow Fontana, safe in prison, today was directing New York detectives to the men he claims responsible for fifty-one secret killings on the Atlantic seaboard and as far west as Detroit. Fontana himself admits several murders, including one on July 30 at Avon, N. J.

Six men, alleged leaders of the "bonventre gang" which Fontana claims is the American branch of the camorra, which has its headquarters in Palermo, Italy, are in custody and more arrests are expected.

At the command of a chief in Palermo Fontana says he murdered Carmilio Cojazzo on July 30. He was told unless he killed Cojazzo accused of the murder of the brother of one of the camorra chieftains, he would be killed himself, he says.

LABOR DEPARTMENT TO ASSIST ALIENS IN CITIZENSHIP

Washington.—Reorganization of the Bureau of Naturalization in the Department of Labor is one of the plans of Secretary Davis. The plan is now taking practical shape, and prospects are that a great new forward step may soon be taken to make life different and better for the alien newcomer and the country a gainer by acquiring new citizens better prepared for their new duties and privileges.

At Secretary Davis's request a bill has been introduced in Congress which will change the title of this bureau to the Bureau of Citizenship. With the change in title the bureau will take on a vastly broadened scope of activity. The old Bureau of Naturalization has always been charged with the responsibility of naturalizing foreigners, but it is Secretary Davis's plan to have the new Bureau live up to its name. It will be more than a Bureau of Naturalization, it will be a Bureau of Citizenship and training for citizenship. It will train our alien arrivals by instruction in the public schools. It will provide for them guidance and protection. It will set up machinery to see to their proper distribution over the country, so as to avoid the old evils of its congestion of new foreigners in the larger cities. Many of these new comers, for instance, arrive here with little experience, which they are forced to discard for work in the cities because they have no means of reaching the farms or of ascertaining where their farming experiences may be of value.

"Among its other duties the new Bureau of Citizenship will spread knowledge of our American institutions in such a way as to heighten respect and inspire loyalty to those institutions," said Secretary Davis, in commenting on his plan. "It will begin a national campaign for bettering the physical and normal well-being of our foreign-born population. To this end the new bureau will undertake to protect the foreigner from fraud and imposition. It will provide centers of information, where persons of patriotic spirit and character will offer guidance and advice. Where it is possible these advisers will be themselves of foreign extraction in order to offer real sympathy and understanding and so serve to bring the still newer aliens into wholesome contact with the people of their own race. Always the burden of advice will be respect for the Federal Government."

It is Secretary Davis's aim to utilize to the full the machinery of the new bureau to protect the newest alien arrivals from the evil influence of "Red" and Communist propaganda. One of the chief agencies in this purpose will be a thorough system of public school instruction for aliens. The women will have the benefit of classes at home. The instruction will be given in places of employment, or at other suitable points, as well as in the public schools. These classes will be arranged for all adults and wage-earners.

"Each alien will be required to register," said Secretary Davis. "This is not for the purpose of setting up a police system, but in order to keep trace of each individual for his protection and guidance. Each registrant will be given a certificate of his registration, on payment of a fee not to exceed $10 for adults and $3 for wage-earners who are minors. All the money from these fees will be expended in the payment of teachers for such foreigners as need schooling. Thus the alien newcomer, as is proper, pays for his own improvement and lifts the burden of his care from the shoulders of the Government."

In addition to these new functions, the new Bureau of Citizenship, as planned, will encourage States and communities to prepare teachers to teach the immigrant to speak, read and write the English language, to understand and value the privileges of citizenship and practice devotion to the institutions of our Government. In all such classes of instruction the motion picture will be liberally used. The States will be asked to adopt legal schools terms of at least six months of each year for the benefit of wage earning children and adults. To this and compulsory school attendance will be asked for. To complete the instruction, training will be provided in health and sanitation, along with physical culture.

The new bureau will seek the aid of all religious, civic, educational, community fraternal and other organizations in the promotion of this work of training the alien for citizenship. Local agencies in each community will be encouraged to pool their efforts and influence toward the establishment of citizenship classes and educational courses in the public schools.

Civil War Veteran Oldest of Old Time Telegraphers

Colonel Robert C. Clowry, the oldest of the oldtime telegraphers, Colonel Clowry is in his eighty-third year and served with the Union Army as a telegrapher throughout the Civil War. He recently sat at the Morse key and sent a telegraphic communication to Colonel Edward C. Newton, seventy-seven years old, who served as a telegrapher with Lee's Army with Col. Clowry was with Grant's forces.

Secretary Davis is convinced that the present naturalization laws need to be modernized in order to meet the actual condition of naturalization. The bill now gives the new bureau authority to appoint officers who shall have semi-judicial power in preliminary naturalization hearings. This will have the effect of cutting much red tape and of saving much time on the part of judges as well as the time of wage earners who desire citizenship. As naturalization is now managed the seeker after citizenship and his witnesses are forced to lose much time from work in waiting at court for the services of the court clerks in preliminary proceedings.

CHARGE BLIN YOUTH WITH KILLING OF WOMAN OF TEXAS

El Paso, Texas, August 17.—Ramon Ramirez, 20 years old, blind, was arrested and charged with murder when Deputy Sheriffs found him sleeping in a shed half a mile from the house in which Mrs. Conrado Alazar, 32 years old, was murdered and her children, Conrado, 4; Ophelia, 7; and Fannie, 8; were clubbed and seriously injured.

"Yes, I killed them," was Ramirez's statement, according to Deputy Sheriff John Boone. "I wanted to kill them all. It would be better for them."

Blood was on Ramirez's face and hands, officers said.

Mrs. Alazar was sleeping with her 18-months old baby when attacked. Her husband went to Tularosa, New Mexico, to seek work.

OHIO PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT PLAN NEAR COMPLETION

League Will Lend Aid To County Officials In Dry Efforts.

Columbus, August 16.—Organization of the Ohio prohibition enforcement league, extending into every ward and precinct of the state, will be completed within a few weeks, according to announcement made by James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio anti-saloon league.

"With an organization so complete, much assistance will be given to county and local officials in driving out illicit liquor manufacturing and bootlegging," said Supt. White.

During a conference here between Supt. White, District Superintendents and field workers of the anti-saloon league, plans were made for a campaign designed to meet "wet propaganda which has been distributed throughout the state to break down enforcement of liquor laws."

Supt. White expects Michigan state officials to put a stop to importations of Canadian liquors before the bootlegging intendants reach counties in northern Ohio.

State Prohibition Commission Parker told the conferees that better results are being obtained by his department against dry law violators.

"WONDER GIRL" OF FRANCE WILL START DRIVE FOR TROPHY

Forest Hills, L. I., August 16.—Mlle Lenglen will start her drive for the American women's tennis championship here today. The great Suzanne is accustomed now to the feel of good American soil beneath her "tribbles" and with two days practice is ready to play her first round match. France's "wonder girl" was scheduled to play Miss Eleanor Goss of New York, in one of the feature matches of this afternoon's program and was the unanimous selection of the critics for the victory.

Later in the day the schedule called for a doubles match with Mlle Lenglen and Mrs. Mola Bjurstedt Malory paired against Miss Margaret Grove and Miss Phyllis Walsh.

Another feature match on today's schedule brought Miss Mary K. Brown, and Mrs. DeForest Candee together. Miss Eleanor Sears and Miss Edith Signourney both of Boston and Miss Leslie Bancroft and Mrs. Benjamin E. Cole also of the Hub, were the other players, booked for the exhibition courts.

Bright pleasant weather was the order against today and officials of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association were confident that the second round would be finished with the same dispatch that marked the disposal of 32 first round matches, according to expectations Monday. Mrs. Malory's well earned victory over Mrs. John Jessup was the star match of the day. The national champion exhibited the same great brand of tennis for which she has become famous and her disposal of Mrs. Jessup in straight sets in a match that was full of thrills during the first half, stamped the champion as the one big hope against Mlle. Lenglen.

WAS TO GENEROUS

Galion, August 17.—When Nick Synsen drove into Ed. Neuman's auto and damaged the machine, Synsen offered to compromise on the damages by turning over to Neuman a quart of corn whiskey. Neuman reported Nick to the police. Nick is doing penance for having liquor in his possession illegally. He was fined $100 and costs and compelled to pay all the damage done to the automobile.

THE U.S. USCOTREAD

Here is the U. S. Uscotread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the Uscot has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

From the makers of U.S. Royal Cords to the users of Fabric Tires

"Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now."

In all of modern merchandising the biggest conundrum is the fabric tire situation.

Around 70% of all car owners use fabric tires.

Their instinct for quality is as strong and insistent as any one else's.

Why, then, are they offered such hodge-podge stocks of "discount tires," "odd lots," "seconds," "retreads" and other so-called bargains of uncertain origin?

Sooner or later the public always seeks out quality. As a matter of self-protection—if for no other reason. The out-and-out opinion in favor of U. S. Fabric Tires has spread more this year than it ever did.

People have gotten very close to the U. S. policy. Felt it. Benefited by it. And passed the word along.

It's a policy settled to one stand and for all U. S. Tires. Whether fabrics or cords. Small sizes or large.

Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now.

All the original U. S. vitality and service comes through when you buy a U. S. Fabric Tire.

"Uscot," "Chain," "Nobby." Three different treads.

Built by the same brains, the same policy, the same quality ideals that have made U. S. Royal Cords the standard measure of tire worth.

ENTERTAINS WITH CHARMING DINNER.

Miss Almeda Allen entertained at a pretty appointed six o'clock dinner at her home on West Third street, Tuesday evening, complimenting Miss Agnes Hornick, whose marriage to Mr. Newton H. Shough, of South Charleston, will be solemnized September 1.

Red and white was the color scheme followed by Miss Allen in the decoration and refreshments. Lovely baskets of gladioli were used in profusion in the living room and dining room, offering a charming effect to the affair.

A large crystal vase of gladioli centered the table, and red candles in crystal holders were placed at each end.

Covers were laid for the following guests: Miss Hornick, the honor guest, Miss Gladys Shadrach, Miss Mildred Gretsinger, Miss Marie Shough, of South Charleston and the hostess, Miss Allen and Messrs. Newton Shough, James Paulin, Joseph McCormick, Walter Dunlap of Dayton and Wilbur Panckake of South Charleston.

INVESTIGATION INTO FIRE AT NEW JASPER STARTED WEDNESDAY

With the arrival of a deputy from the State Fire Marshall's office, Wednesday, the investigation being conducted to attempt to solve the origin of the fire that destroyed the grocery and dwelling of William Warner in New Jasper, Monday night was given new incentive.

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson in company with Sheriff L. Funderburg conducted an investigation at the village, Tuesday, but their efforts still failed to reveal the exact cause of the admitted antipathy to Warner that had resulted in the villagers pelting his place of business with rotten eggs two weeks ago and culminated, it is hinted, in the fire of Monday night.

Prosecutor Williamson said, Tuesday night, that he is firmly convinced that the buildings were burned purposely and that the question that baffles authorities is that of who did the burning. The Prosecutor accompanied the state official to the village, Wednesday, for further investigation, but Sheriff Funderburg was called to Lebanon on a trial and could not accompany the investigators. It is believed that the investigation, Wednesday, may bear some fruit in regards to the origin of the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Sanders, who own the house occupied by the Warners which caught from the grocery conflagration and was reduced to ashes, were in New Jasper, Wednesday, investigating their loss. The Warners, who saved all of their furniture, have a house owned by Raper Sutton, and adjoining the building owned by Sutton and occupied by Warner as a pool room, and have moved into the new domicile. Mr. Warner was busy at the pool room Wednesday.

Warner is said to have had $600 worth of insurance on the grocery building, which he had erected on leased ground, $2,500 worth of insurance on the stock of groceries and $500 on the store fixtures. The Sanders property was not insured.

It is rumored that part of the trouble between citizens and the Warners resulted when women of New Jasper objected when Warner started the pool room last winter, saying it was a disgrace to the village.

YIELD IS HIGH

Wooster, August 17.—Yields of wheat in the 124 plots in the fertility experiments at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station here were as high as 48 bushels to the acre. On some plots receiving neither lime nor fertilizer the yield was as low as 2.83 bushels to the acre.

OPEN FIGHT STARTS AGAINST REVISION OF NATION'S TAXES

Washington, August 17.—The open fight against the tax revision bill began in the house today. With an agreement to vote on the bill at 3 o'clock Saturday, Democrats decided to make the most of their time in opposing the bill. Opposition to the bill is being directed by Rep. Kitchin, Democratic leader, from his sick room in his home at Scotland Neck, N. C. Kitchin's views are being forwarded here by telegraph and will be incorporated in the minority bill which will be filed late today. It was decided by the Democrats that they would insist the Republican tax plan would not yield the $3,500,000,000 necessary to a safe and sane conduct of the treasury and that the attempt to get along with less would result in a deficit destructive of orderly financing of the government.

The present further argument that the revision of the taxes prepared by the Republicans is inequitable, in that it lightens the burdens on the rich but gives little relief to the poorer tax payers. The exemptions for married men and heads of families on incomes up to $5,000 will benefit some, but the mass of tax payers with incomes from $5,000 to $66,000 will pay the same rates as formerly while those with incomes in excess of $66,000 will have the taxes reduced materially, the greatest reduction on largest incomes amounting to about fifty per cent. It is claimed by opponents of the bill.

The same inequality in tax reduction is shown they say in respect to the corporation net income tax which is increased by the bill from 10 to 12 1-2 percent. The corporations with small earnings will have to pay heavier taxes while corporations with great incomes by virtue of the repeal of the excess profits tax will pay far less in taxes, amounting in some instances to a reduction of 60 percent.

Local game officials are calling attention to several changes in connection with the law governing the open season for fur bearing animals, as previously announced. According to Karl Keller, local game warden the open season for rabbits lies between November 15 and January 1st, that of squirrel being from September 15, to October 20, with a restriction of five per day. There is no open season for deer. Skunk, fox and opossum may be taken from November 15 to February 1. The mink and muskrat season is from November 15 to the first of March.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES ARE URGED

Columbus, O., August 17.—A joint proposal that freight rates on intrastate shipments of crushed stone, gravel and sand be reduced approximately 18 per cent was submitted here today when the state utilities commission resumed its inquiry into prevailing freight rates on shipments within Ohio of road building materials.

Attorney J. W. Wilson, Columbus, chief counsel for the Ohio railroads at the hearing, presented the proposal. It proposes that freight rates be readjusted on a basis of the rates prevailing on August 25, 1920 plus 15 per cent.

The proposal provides further however, that the minimum scale of freight rates prevailing on the lower Michigan peninsula be observed on Ohio railroads. Under this arrangement the Michigan minimum rates would prevail in cases where the readjusted Ohio rates fell below the Michigan minimum figures.

RUSSELL VIRTUALLY SURE OF SELECTION

Washington, August 17.—President Harding is seriously considering the appointment of former Congressman J. E. Russell, of Sidney, Ohio, as federal prohibition director for that state, it was learned at the White House today. Russell was a White House caller today.

The appointment of Russell is believed to be virtually assured. His selection will mark a victory for the forces of attorney General Daugherty in Ohio over Senator Willis, who has urged the appointment of Frank Bogardus of Kenton as prohibition commissioner.

Russell's name will not have to be confirmed by the senate and therefore the confirmation cannot be blocked by Willis who has held up the confirmation of Charles Nauts of Toledo as collector of internal revenue.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT TEACHERS' MEET

Mrs. Carrie L. Flatter, general secretary of the No-Tobacco League of Ohio, is scheduled as the principal speaker at the exercises to be held on the opening days of the Crawford County Teacher's institute to be held in Bucyrus, Monday, August 22.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley, president of the John B. Stetson university of Deland, Fla., and Dr. W. A. Matheny, professor of civic biology and botany speakers of the four day session, to be held in the public library of Bucyrus.

TWO ARE SHOT IN KENTUCKY ATTACK

Hodgenville, Ky., August 17.—O. H. McFarland, federal prohibition agent and Sam Ray, a taxicab driver were perhaps fatally wounded when the officer's auto was riddled late Tuesday by a band of a dozen men standing out in the open on the roadside.

The attack, probably unparalleled in Kentucky's history for its boldness took place after Mr. McFarland and Sheriff W. T. Hornback, Larue county had captured a fifty gallon still in the eastern end of the county.

The two officers with G. T. Purvis, a farmer who had led them to the still, and the driver of the car, were returning to Hodgenville at 6 o'clock after destroying the outfit when they passed a group of armed men standing about 20 feet in front of a house not far from the site of the raid.

When the car had gone 75 or 100 feet beyond the house a fusillade of rifle shots rained bullets on the automobile. The driver dropped to the floor with a bullet through his head. Officer McFarland shot twice through the lower part of the back by bullets which first penetrated the hind part of the car, to the bed of the machine.

CAMP TECUMSEH TO OPEN MONDAY

Camp Tecumseh will open next Monday.

Thirty five boys have registered to go in camp next Monday on the Bryan farm near Yellow Springs, and will spend ten-days enjoying out-door life.

The camp is in charge of A. J. Black, manual training teacher at McKinley High School, who will supervise the outdoor exercises of the boys in camp and teach them the value of outdoor life. Wednesday will be visiting day at the Camp, it is said, and although visitors will be welcome any day, they will be sure of finding the boys "at home" on that day.

MANY CRIMINALS AT LARGE IN STATE

Columbus, August 17.—Several hundred thousand criminals will be at large in Ohio today— even excluding those guilty of violations of prohibition laws.

Under the Atwood bill of sale law if you have a second hand machine you cannot lawfully drive it without having on file with the clerk of courts an affidavit of ownership.

Only a few had filed affidavits yesterday with Clerk Gockenbach of Franklin County. Of course no police officer would think of arresting you if you'd drive to the courthouse today to file your affidavit. There won't be any arrests for some time.

Attorney General Price said yesterday that the ill-defined words, "used motor vehicle" used in the law mean only what commonly are known as second-hand machines and that owners of such only have to file affidavits of ownership.

Owners of machines purchased new from dealers need not file such papers, he asserted.

The law, however, is so complicated and its provisions so ambiguous that many doubt if police anywhere will run the risk of enforcing it. Its intention was to require all owners to file affidavits of ownership for machines now in use, in order to get them on record, and hereafter require bills of sale or certificates of title beginning with the manufacturer to be given with each sale of a machine. It was lobbied through the legislature by the Ohio State Auto Association.

SPEAKS AT W. C. T. U. MEETING SATURDAY

Mrs. Carrie Ballard, of Texas, National Child Welfare Worker will speak at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. to be held at the home of Mrs. Carruthers, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Officers of the society for the coming year will be elected at that time and dues for the year will be payable. Members and friends are invited to the meeting.

CHAMPIONSHIP STILL UNSOLVED DESPITE MEETING OF BODY

Columbus, August 17.—A session of members of the Ohio Boxing Association here ended with the question of middleweight championship unsolved. A decision is expected to be reached at another meeting here on August 23.

It was announced that when the commissioners decide whether Bryan Downey has taken the championship title from Johnny Wilson the Ohio Association will submit the matter to the national association.

Secretary Horner of the Cleveland boxing commission presented affidavits which were very favorable for Downey. At the meeting on August 23, Wilson's manager, Martin Killipe, is expected to present Wilson's side of the controversy.

TO GIVE EXHIBITION.

Bill Schertzer and Otto Potter, of Columbus comedy cyclists and fire eaters, until five years ago on the Keith vaudeville circuit, will give an exhibition of comedy bike riding and fire eating in front of the court house Saturday at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and again at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. Potter is billed as a fire eater and Schertzer as a bike rider.

CHICAGO'S KU KLUX KLAN INITIATES

Chicago, August 17.—Details of Chicago's first ku klux klan initiation in which 2,376 men were made members of the order, became known here today.

The initiation conducted with weird rites and much secrecy, was held on a prairie thirty-four miles from the city while a drizzling rain fell on the white robed figures. The clansmen stood ankle deep in mud and slush and ghostly fires burned as the neophytes took the oath of allegiance to the "invisible empire." A procession of 2,000 automobiles carried the clansmen to the scene of the initiation, more than 7,000 white robed men participating.

VICTIM OF SHOOTING AT PARK IS DEAD

Dayton, August 17.—John C. Dustin, 23, shot when someone sent a bullet into the crowd on the land Park dance floor last Friday night, wounding Dustin and Earl Kohorst, died this morning. Eight Wilbur Wright field soldiers have been detained since the affair but at the hospital yesterday, Dustin was unable to identify them. At the field it is said the men will be courtmartialed but not on charges concerning the direct shooting of Dustin, as officers at the post say they are confident their men had nothing to do with the shooting. Before the affair there had been a row between civilian youth and soldiers.

RECEIVES PAINFUL CUTS IN ACCIDENT

Miss Mary Gregg, of Springfield, received painful cuts on the right arm near the elbow, when the Cole touring car in which she was riding struck fresh gravel on the Springfield pike north of Old Town about 6:30 o'clock, Saturday evening, and dashed off the road into the ditch. The machine did not overturn, but Miss Gregg's arm caught on a barbed wire fence along the side of the road. The machine struck and demolished a telephone pole and was considerably damaged. The party was on its way to Dayton. A passing motor party brought Miss Gregg to the office of Dr. C. H. Denner where six stitches were taken in the wound.

RICHMOND BOY GIVES SELF UP

Dayton, August 17.—With quite a story about hardships created by a step daddy and declaring his conscience hurt after stealing a bicycle and riding to Dayton, Russell Cliff, 14, Richmond, Ind., walked up to a policeman and asked to go home.

5-CENT FARE ORDINANCE UP

Dayton, August 17.—Whether Dayton will pay a five cent and three cent street car fare with a penny for transfers, will be decided by the city commission today. An ordinance calling for the drop from 7 cents was up for reading today for passage, having been first read at a special session Friday. Street car men claim they can not operate on the proposed scale.

VOTERS WILL SERVE AS ELECTION CLERKS

Plainsfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—There probably will be no hard fought campaign preceding the election that will be held on August 27, on the farm of L. A. Hartong.

L. A. Hartong will be the judge of the election. Mrs. L. A. Hartong will be the clerk. The voters will be Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hartong.

The election ordered by August Maue, superintendent of schools of Will county, will decide if the Hartong farm is to be annexed to the Plainsfield school district.

Neighbors are speculating today as to what will happen if the election results in a tie vote.

ELEVATOR DESTROYED; STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Kansas City, Aug. 17.—During a severe rain storm early today lightning struck the mill and grain elevator of the Kelly Milling Company and started a fire which burned the plant to the ground. The damage is estimated at $700,000.

NATION'S TAX BILL GIVEN BIG CUT

Washington, Aug. 17.—The nation's tax bill will be cut $193,640,000 this fiscal year; $377,790,000 in the calendar year 1922 and $790,330,000 in 1923, Chairman Fordney of the house means and means committee asserted in the majority report explaining the tax revision bill framed by Republican committeemen.

Without disputing the figures house Democrats prepared to caucus for a broadside assault on the Republican measure, planning to brand it as a rich man's bill. Their views were to be incorporated in a minority analysis, attacking the means by which reductions were achieved.

Meantime, the rules committee reported a rule to put the bill through the house at 3 p. m. Saturday. Debate will begin at 11 a. m. tomorrow, the measure having been formally reported today by the ways and means committee with the Democratic voting solidly against it.

WOOD'S RELEASE IS ASKED OF U. OF P. ON EMERGENCY PLEA.

The release of Major General Leonard Wood from the University of Pennsylvania is sought by the Government because, in General Wood's own words, "A national emergency exists in the Philippines."

A letter sent by John W. Weeks, Secretary of War, to Governor Sproul, as president ex-officio of the Board of Trustees, has been turned over to Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, acting provost of the University, with the request that he lay the matter before the trustees.

The letter from the Secretary of War asked that General Wood be released until the fall of 1922 from his promise to head the University. General Wood was to have taken the position this fall.

The Secretary included in his letter a copy of a cablegram from General Wood in which he stated that, in his belief, a national emergency existed. When the general agreed with the trustees to accept the position of head of the University he made the stipulation that such position should be waived in case of a national emergency. The agreement was entirely oral, for at the time the general did not think he ought formally to accept a new position while in the uniform and service of the Government.

It was stated at the White House that the next step hinged upon the receipt of the final report of the Wood-Forbes mission. That report is expected by cable within the next few days. In the event that the final report recommends, as did the preliminary one of some two weeks ago, that American control of the islands be continued, the President will offer the position of Governor General to General Wood and General Wood has indicated already his willingness to accept it.

It is understood that the President feels that if independence can not be granted, due to conditions in the islands, that General Wood is the one man to take charge of the situation and that he will be glad to and will tender the place to him.

The opinion in Administration circles is that it should not take General Wood more than a year to get things on a proper basis so that his successor can be named.

A KING'S ECONOMIES.

King George of England hasn't ordered a new suit of clothing since the armistice and Princess Mary has had but six new gowns in all that time. These are hard times at Buckingham Palace and hard times in the "king business" generally.

King George is in the same straits as so many of his peers and gentlemen. His income has not increased since the war, but his expenses have. Of the "civil list," amounting to $2,350,000 yearly, the King has the spending of less than $125,000 yearly. Not a penny of it ever reaches his private bank account, according to English authorities.

So the King is running behind, and is having to take money from his private resources to carry on the royal household expenses and the ceremonials inseparable from his job.

The matter is a sort of a national scandal in England and has reached the House of Commons. It seems that King George favors a reduction in the splendid ceremonies that from of old have been associated with the British throne. The Government does not believe this will be popular with the people and the Empire.

That is why King George is drinking water instead of Russian tea at breakfast. That is why he takes a private car instead of a special train when he travels.

Here is a situation that the English do not find specially amusing. The Empire demands certain things of its King and Emperor, and he must go into his private funds to furnish them for the Empire. Furthermore, he objects to being given any more money to pay for them. In the meanwhile, the ruler of Great Britain, the crown colonies and the Dominions is lucky in that he had a lot of clothes when the war came in 1914.

DYES AND DEFENSE.

Enemies of the move to give special and extraordinary protection to the dye industry are waging a bitter battle on the grounds that such protection will place American consumers at the mercy of American plants. There is something in the argument; but has the country so quickly forgotten the lesson of the war in the matter of dyes and chemicals?

America relied entirely upon German dyestuffs before 1914. The German plants had slain calmly all attempts at creating an American dye industry. They had seriously handicapped the American chemical industry also.

Recall 1915-16-17 drug and chemical prices. Carbolic acid rose to unheard-of figures. Coal-tar products in general soared to the ceiling and stayed there. Dyes immediately rose in price and refused to come down. Dyes were hoarded; hidden in deposit vaults.

Why? Because we had a few chemical works of importance and no dye-making plants. We found it necessary to start from the foundations. Men had to be trained, processes improvised and ten years of research and experimentation done in two.

The world is talking disarmament, but it has not disarmed. A nation without its own dye and chemical resources is a helpless agglomeration of humanity in case of trouble. Blockades can render it helpless.

Unless we want the rejuvenated German firms to walk calmly in and take over the business they had prior to 1914, the business that Americans have now taken over, there must be a very high tariff or an embargo. It doesn't matter greatly which, but one or the other is necessary.

The Germans want that business back. They are prepared to, as of old, cut rates and cut them again to get it. Do we want to drift back into the same helpless shape we were in 1914-17?

MAYBE THERE IS SOMETHING IN THE THEORY THAT A FLIVVER RESEMBLES MACHINERY AFTER ALL

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Teachers' Institute opened this morning with about one hundred teachers in attendance. Madame Van Helden made a most favorable impression upon the teachers in her address to the institute.

R. S. Kingsbury was a business visitor in Cincinnati today.

The power house which was used by the Rapid Transit Company, before its consolidation with the D. and X. has been leased by the Little Miami Traction Company, and the building will be used temporarily by that company. An entire new plant will have to be put in as none of the old machinery could be utilized.

It will be a great surprise to the friends of Mr. Harry Schweibold and Miss Dena Staley to learn of their marriage that was solemnized on Tuesday of this week. None of the friends of the young couple have been aware of their marriage but the secret leaked out and they are receiving the congratulations of their host of friends.

The fine young driving horse of R. S. Kingsbury, L'Aiglon, got three first premiums at the recent fair, taking in first sweepstakes, first in general purpose and first in four-year-old roadsters. Mr. James M. Fletcher is contemplating building a modern new house on his lot on West Second street.

LOOKING COOL AND DAINTY

A young girl once remarked that she liked to look at Mrs. Blank, because Mrs. Blank always looked so cool and dainty that she felt cool when she looked at her. There's a great deal of good sound psychology in that.

If you look cool you are apt to feel much fresher than if your clothes give you an overheated appearance. A black voile dress, for instance, may actually be cool—but it doesn't look so, and its wearer can never actually feel as fresh and dainty as though she were in some cooler color.

Plain color clothes are always nicer in summer than dresses made of elaborately figured materials for just that reason; they are restful and to be restful in hot weather is to be cool—at least comparatively. Dresses with simple lines achieve the same effect, while dresses loaded with lace and over elaborate embroidery do not.

Powder is cool in summer, because it is refreshing. It makes one feel dainty and fresh. Talcum which is soothing is always the best sort to use and can be used quite freely. It keeps the skin smooth and does away with that "sticky" feeling that is more uncomfortable than heat itself.

Every woman who can, should go without corsets in the very hot days. This is easy enough if one has summer dresses with loose straight lines. Underclothing should be reduced to a minimum and knit-the garments that cling to the skin should be eliminated in favor of muslins and such cool materials cut on straight lines like the men's athletic underwear. Underclothing made like this will always keep you cool.

Virginia:—White shoes are worn with all sport clothes and dainty summer dresses. Tan shoes are worn and are very appropriate for all outing or business as they do not soil easily. If you are limited in choice, the black-ones will do for all purposes. Suede shoes continue to be in vogue.

J. L. O.:—I do not advise dyeing the hair. If you feel that you prefer to dye it, have it done by someone in the profession, as amateur work rarely turns out well.

Mrs. M. M. H.:—If you send a stamped addressed envelope, I shall be pleased to send you the formula for the Pilocarpine tonic. Yes, you may use henna to color the loose grey hairs. To effect this and yet not change the color of the balance of the hair you should mix the henna with your lather for the shampoo but do not allow it to remain on the head except for the time needed for the work. To change the shade entirely the henna lather remains on the hair as long as required for the tinting usually from ten to 30 minutes.

Letters To The Editor

"MAIN STREET"

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Does anyone know how the name of Chillicothe Street in Xenia came to be changed to Main Street? Was the change made by ordinance or is "Main Street" just a nickname? The name "Chillicothe Street" appears on the old maps. Now that "Main Street" is getting so much notoriety through Lewis's novel of that name, why not investigate a little? Perhaps one of our older citizens, or one who is familiar with the city records, can answer the question. C. K.

Uncalled For.

Editor Xenia Gazette:

The editorial in The Times Star of August 16, "Not as Romantic as it Seems," so far as its reference to this city's name is concerned, is as ungracious as it is uncalled for.

Xenia, Ohio, has no connection, even in a remote way, with Princess Xenia of Russia or the son of the late William B. Leeds whose father was once well known here in railroad circles. It was located and named before either was born. The editorial writer's statement that "it was called by a Greek name which sounds like a skin disease" is a bit of chauvinism unworthy an editorial column. This "Greek name"

—the editor probably means "Greek word"—from which Xenia is derived, means hospitality. Its pronunciation does not even resemble ECZEMA, "a skin disease," unless it be within vagaries of a disarticulating imagination for which a vacation to the place "where the DAWN comes up like thunder" might be restorative.

W. A. GALLOWAY.

WIFE DISAPPEARS

The reference to Xenia in the above mentioned editorial follows: "And then Xenia is not a romantic name to the people of Southwestern Ohio. We have a city out here that"

Bellaire.—George Parry has asked the police to help find his wife. The couple came here last spring from England. The woman disappeared last Monday.

WILL INVESTIGATE GRANTING OF PAROLES DECLARES DAVIS

Columbus, August 17.—"We propose to begin a searching investigation at once to determine circumstances which surrounded the granting by the old board of paroles to confirmed crooks before going out of office," Governor Davis announced here today. "The people of Ohio have a right to be told what influences have led to the issuance of these paroles and we intend to see, as far as we can, that this is done."

The governor's statements related to newspaper criticism of paroles granted to notorious criminals by the old board of clemency in the last days of the board's existence. The Dunn act, effective July 1, providing for reorganization of state departments, legislated the clemency board members out of office and authorized appointment of a new board and superintendent of pardons and paroles.

Gov. Davis today reiterated his resolve to "halt the parole evil" and to stop "the foisting back out of the penitentiary upon the people of the state, of confirmed crooks."

"It is our firm determination, that during our administration, there shall be no release from custody on parole of any prisoners, except where the case is clearly meritorious and where there is strong evidence that the prisoner, if given his freedom will lead a useful, law abiding life," continued the governor.

The governor said he has approved a plan adopted by Rev. John S. Rutledge, state superintendent of paroles and pardons, which provides that the question of any proposed parole shall be taken up first with a local advisory committee in the county where the prisoner was convicted. Each county is to have such a committee which is designed to afford fullest publicity and to assure that citizens of a community will be consulted as to the advisability of any parole.

RECORDS SCORE OF 49 AT TRAP SHOOT

Hary Spahr of this city, broke 49 out of 50 birds on the 15-yard range at the shoot of the Central Ohio Trap Shooters League held under the auspices of the Springfield Gun Club at Snyder park, Tuesday.

It was the last of the five one-day shoots to be held by the League this summer. Splendid shooting weather increased the popularity of the tournament. J. M. Vicker of Chillicothe was high man in the 100-yard handicap, with a score of 97 and F. C. Kock of Brookville made a perfect score in the 50-target event. B. J. Leveck of Hamestown broke 48 birds in this event.

THINKS AMERICA CAN SOLVE TROUBLE

Columbus.—Because it is only from profit on production that the immense war debt can be paid production costs will remain high.

This is the belief expressed by Colvin V. Brown, Washington, head of the Department of Organization, United States Chamber of Commerce in an address to a local audience.

"If the selling price sinks below the cost of production no power on earth can hold it there, and after this period of reconstruction is passed we will go back on a sound basis, for the world needs our goods," said Mr. Brown.

HUDSON AND ESSEX CARS ARE REDUCED

Columbus, Aug. 17.—The third cut in prices in a year, announced yesterday by manufacturers of Hudson and Essex motor cars, puts both of these machines back to pre-war bases, it is declared.

Hudson touring models, which last year sold at $2600, f. o. b. Detroit, now can be purchased at $1895. With war tax and freight added to both prices, it is said the reduction in price laid down in Columbus amounts to more than $900. Other models also have been cut correspondingly. The Essex, to sell today at $1375, will cost but $40 more than when it first was brought out in 1919.

The C. McDonald Lexington Motor Car Co., yesterday also announced it had received notice of reductions in price of $600, $400 and $200 on various models of its line.

FIVE ARE DEAD AS RESULT OF DISORDERS

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Five persons are dead as a result of disorders which began when a negro ran amuck yesterday afternoon through the center of the business section.

Seven are known to have been wounded, two of them probably fatally.

Patrolman W. W. Moore, an unidentified white man and a negro were killed in a shooting affray following the initial outbreak of the apparently crazed man.

Crowds of armed citizens immediately gathered at the scene of the shooting but were dispersed after some difficulty by the police, who were assisted in their task by a sudden rainstorm.

With the cessation of the rain, however, other crowds swiftly collected and armed bands began to patrol the streets, leading to the fear on the part of the city authorities of racial clashes.

HUNT FOR GOLD PROVES TO BE SLOW

Reports from Bainbridge, where a find of gold quartz was reported a short time ago, indicate that the two men who made the find have not yet been able to produce the precious metal in paying quantities, but are still experimenting with a view to increasing the output.

So far the method of obtaining the gold has been crude and none of consequence has been obtained. The two men are still confident, it is declared that their find is really worth while.

WOMEN IN HOMES AND SOCIETY

Countless women devote their whole lives to their homes, while others are in the business world, or find happiness only in society. Whether you are a home woman, a business woman, or a society woman, you know how hard it is to "drag along" day after day, suffering agonies, caused by some female derangement that has developed from overtaxing your strength. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly half a century has been considered a standard remedy for woman's ills.

Health Talks

By John B. Huber, AMMD

A greater sense of responsibility in the home—this is what this nation calls for.

THE RAT AND DISEASE

It is a defective and unclean civilization which endures the rat. Such was the case along the Mississippi years ago, when Mark Twain so vividly pictured the experiences of Huckleberry Finn; when, in almost any house, almost anywhere along the floor would protrude the nose of one of those dirty brown rodents. Such seems to be the case in Copenhagen, where at one time the conditions were so bad that a society was formed for the extermination of that creature which harbors in its mangy hide so many varieties of disease-engendering germs. During Napoleon's time at St. Helena the rats were so rife that they walked on the dinner table; and once when he lifted his hat from the hall stand a rat jumped from it.

Besides engendering disease, the rat destroys property, causes fires and inundations by gnawing through waterpipes. Wherever living and housing conditions are unsanitary, where filth and refuse remain unmoved, where drainage is bad, where dank and darkness prevail, in regions unreachable by sunshine and fresh air—under conditions, in short, where scavenging is necessary—there is the rat to be found. There, indeed, in the scheme of things, is the rat indispensable.

The rat seems to be most entirely responsible for the propagation of bubonic plague from port to port. The germ of typhus and typhoid fever, and no doubt also of tuberculosis, and many other infections, are disseminated by it. Investigations in Chicago have shown that the rat is in very loathsome ways related to trichinosis in man. Rats and mice are very susceptible to hydrophobia infection; they may, therefore, be responsible for many cases of canine rabies.

The methods suggested for destroying this animal, if carried out, would be worth more to the people of the United States in a single decade than the Department of Agriculture has cost since its establishment.

Poisoning, traps, ferrets, and fumigation are the means to be employed. Barium carbonate and strychnine are the most useful poisons. The "guillotine" or "break-back" trap, made entirely of metal, is probably the best. Ferrets and dogs are useful, but only when their masters are experienced in rat-catching. In fumigation, a wad of cotton saturated with carbon disulphide, is pushed into the burrow and the opening closed with soil to prevent the escape of gas; this method cannot be used in dwellings, where the decaying body of the rat would create a stench.

But to end as we began, the question is one of cleanly civilization. If communities have not risen above the level where they will permit filth and putrescence to accumulate, they—lest worse befall them—must endure the rat, which is a natural scavenger of such matter.

PROFESSOR TIPPED TO PRESIDE OVER GREENWICH TOWN

Hendrick Willem Van Loon, as Emperor of Greenwich Village, and his wife, Jimmie Criswell Van Loon, as the Empress!

This is the ticket proposed by enterprising citizens of Greenwich Village of New York City, in their plans to secede from the city, and defy at Mayor Hylan, and run their own little private government.

The Greenwich Villager, a weekly publication recently inaugurated in the colony, tells of the "bloodless revolution" and the Village "secession" and its plan to set up a new government at once.

It will be interesting to local people to know that Van Loon named as possible head of the proposed village government, is to be Professor of Social Science and history at Antioch College next fall. He has received the degree A. B. from Cornell and the degree Ph. D., from the University of Munich, and was formerly Lecturer on Modern European History at Cornell and Associated Press Correspondent during the world war. He is author of "The Fall of the Dutch Republic" and other historical works and has recently issued a new history. With his wife, known in the village as Jimmie Van Loon, he operates a tea room in Washington Square, the Village section, known as Van Loons, and according to the Villager is a lion among his fellows in the colony.

Under the column devoted to "The Lojner" Van Loon is proposed for the "Hall of Fame" for his new history, in the Village paper.

DEATH SUMMONS FORMER ATTORNEY

Charles B. Warrington, 71, brother of late Federal Judge J. B. Warrington, of Cincinnati, died Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Cyrus Griffith of South Charleston, death resulting from paralysis. He had been an invalid twenty years.

Mr. Warrington was well known in Ohio circles having practiced for a number of years. He was for many years city solicitor for Cincinnati and was a partner in the law firm of Paxton and Warrington, of that city. He retired from practice a number of years ago and had been making his home with his sister in South Charleston for fifteen years.

Funeral service will be held in South Charleston, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will be made in Greenlawn Cemetery at South Charleston.

NO WOMAN IS STRONGER THAN HER NERVES

No electric power station is stronger than the amount of electricity stored therein. Your brain and nervous system consists of countless millions of cells. In these cells is stored a mighty mysterious energy called "nerve force" on which all thought, force, energy and even life itself must depend.

If you overtax your nerves by worry, overwork, too much excitement, grief or constant nervous strain, and thereby use up your nerve force or nerve-vital fluid faster than it is made, you are bound in time to become a nervous wreck with all its terrible tortures and sufferings.

In such cases, avoid mere stimulating medicines and narcotic drugs. What you need is something to put more nerve force into your weak, depleted nerve cells. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron, as it not only contains organic iron to enrich your blood, but it also contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force, so that it may be said to be both a blood and a nerve food. It often increases the strength, vigor and endurance of weak, tired, nervous, worn out women in two weeks' time. Satisfactory results are guaranteed to every purchaser or the manufacturers will refund your money. Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.

GOLF AND HOW TO PLAY IT

By Chas. Chick Evans Jr.

Caddies Learn from Golfers' Example

Do you think that the average golf player considers the presence of his caddy and realizes what his actions may mean to the boy? I think some words on this subject might go a long way toward curing a possible evil in golf.

To a caddy, the most wonderful man in the world is the man who hires him. The little fellow usually comes from a home where money is not plentiful. He is accustomed to seeing his father leave early for work and return home late. Young as he is, he has realized the pinch of poverty. With his caddy money he has paid for his own clothes for a long time, and a nickel looks larger to him than dollar does to a man.

It may be that he is a country lad who has walked a long distance to reach the golf course. To him the clubman, with his good clothes, his fine golf bag and clubs, his new balls and swift and shining automobile is a wonderful image of success; his conduct, and his language are, of course, to be imitated. Years later the boy's ideal of success may change, but at that time of his life the clubman, the star golfer, the professional, and the caddy-master are the real examples he himself to imitate.

Caddies Miss Little

The caddy yard and the caddy-master is always near the professional's shop. The boys are almost always in rebellion against the professional and the caddy-master, although they admire them.

In Earlier Days

In former times, when the town butcher or farmer himself dressed and cured the meat for the community, he could not always tell how it would turn out.

His methods were crude; partly traditional, partly guesswork. His tests were few and inconclusive.

Meat packing of today, as carried on by Swift & Company, has changed all that. It is scientific. Nothing is left to chance; nothing taken for granted.

The most painstaking care and attention are given to every step. Processes are worked out on a large scale with minute exactness. Methods are continually revised and improved. Cleanliness is insisted upon. Drastic, incessant inspections are the order of the day.

Swift products are uniform, graded according to quality.

Take bacon, for instance.

Swift & Company set out years ago to make a delicious, savory bacon which should be uniformly excellent.

The result is Swift's Premium Bacon, always the same, always famously good. Today this bacon, wrapped, sealed and branded, has circled the world.

Swift & Company's system of distribution carries it to places which the "town butcher" or the farmer could not reach.

Mogadore Woman Hadn't Enjoyed Good Health In 6 Months Before Taking Tanlac.

"I don't believe I ever felt better in my life than I have since Tanlac relieved my stomach trouble," said Mrs. Opal Brannan, of Mogadore, Ohio.

"I began to suffer dreadfully from indigestion about six months ago, and no matter how careful I was about eating I had awful pains in the pit of my stomach, and it would be hours before I could get any relief.

"At night I seldom got any rest to speak of, and would get up in the mornings feeling tired and miserable. I nearly always had a bad brassy taste in my mouth, I used to dread my housework, it was such a burden to me in my weakened condition.

"My digestion is perfect now, and all my troubles have disappeared. Not only that, but there is something about Tanlac that makes a person feel fine all the time. I am just full of energy and my housework doesn't bother me a bit. I don't believe Tanlac's equal has ever been made."

Picks Up "Cuss Words"

I remember when I was a caddy I learned more "cuss words" from one club member than I would have been able otherwise to collect in the course of a long life. I used to wait for hours just to catch a glimpse of certain members, and not a word they said escaped my listening ear. It would be hard for many a caddy to say how many times he had been sworn at because his employer had missed a shot, or how many clubs he had seen broken in rage from the same important cause.

Older people know that all golfers are not careless, but, unfortunately, it is the exaggerated exceptions that make the deepest impressions upon the boy, and for that reason the less the boys see of the club house and the nineteenth hole the better.

Looking for THE STORK?

What Experienced Mothers say about MOTHER'S FRIEND.

The mothers who appreciate MOTHER'S FRIEND the most, and who are the loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby, and who, through its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the relief it gave them.

DIDN'T EVEN NEED THE DOCTOR

"I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about 'MOTHER'S FRIEND.' It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle.

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

MRS. C. J. HARTMAN.

515 Palm Street, Scranton, Pa.

"Before using 'MOTHER'S FRIEND' I suffered from Wednesday 'till Sunday. With my next child

I used 'MOTHER'S FRIEND' and was sick only three hours."

MRS. OLIVE VANDEN.

10 Grape St., Gallipolis, O.

CHILD BORN EASILY

"My child was brought into the world easily by the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND." I only suffered two hours before baby came and I can hardly call it suffering, for there was no pain to speak of. I did all my work and scrubbed the floor before going to bed and the next morning at 7:30 o'clock a big 9½ pound boy was here."

MRS. OTIS GUSTIN.

Griswold, Iowa.

LOCAL QUOIT CLUB

LOSES TO OPPONENTS

Although thirteen games were necessary to decide the winner, the Xenia Quoit Club lost to the Irwin Augur Bit company team at Wilmington, Monday night.

The tournament marked the opening and dedication of the new quito grounds by the company for employees. Any of this city was the individual high-score player of the meet, with 33 points to his credit while Cummins of the Wilmington team garnered 32.

Kyle and Anderson, of the local club and Stephens and McConnel of the Augur Bit team played well for their respective teams. A large crowd witnessed the tournament.

REPORTS FARMERS WILL BURN CORN AS FUEL IN WINTER

Washington, Aug. 17.—Iowa farmers are attempting to mature the largest corn crop in the history of the state, with no prospect of a market and Minnesota farmers are preparing to burn their corn this winter instead of buying coal, farmers told the Interstate Commerce Commission in its investigation of freight rates on grain and hay.

Railroads, by maintaining abnormally high freight rates, will lose the tariff on the coal which the farmers would use if they could sell their corn as well as that on the unsold grain, T. B. Cashman, a Minnesota farmer, told the commission. Lower freight rates on grain and hay he said, in reply to questions by members of the commission, would increase the volume of traffic, not only in those commodities, but the increase would be reflected in the added purchases by farmers of machinery, household goods, lumber and other necessities.

E. H. Cunningham, secretary of the American farm bureau federation of Iowa and a practical farmer, said that while the railroads probably were suffering as a result of the present readjustment, he believed the situation as regards a basic industry like agriculture, should be given precedence in consideration over the carriers, which he described as a commercial industry.

JOHN W. PETERSON CALLED BY DEATH

John W. Peterson, 78, died at his home on the Wilmington pike at two o'clock, standard time, Tuesday afternoon. His illness dated from January 1, growing serious about two weeks ago. His condition was due to heart trouble until Saturday when pneumonia developed causing his death.

Mr. Peterson was a life-long and well-known resident of Greene County. He was born in the Peterson homestead in Caesars Creek, March 22, 1843 and had spent practically all of his life in the vicinity in which he was born. During the Civil War he served as a member of the 154th Regiment and was a member of Lewis Post, G. A. R.

His marriage to Miss Catherine Hawkins took place in 1903, and she survives him with an adopted daughter, Mrs. Roy King, of Atlanta, Ga., who has been here for a week. He also leaves a brother, Harper Peterson, of Wichita, Kansas, who has also been at his bedside for several weeks. Mr. Peterson was a member of the First Reformed Church of this city.

Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at two o'clock central standard time and burial will be made at Woodland.

LODGE IS NAMED AS ARMS DELEGATE

Washington, August 17.—The senate claim to a share of responsibility for the foreign affairs of the nation was recognized by President Harding by the designation of Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee, as a member of the American delegation to the disarmament conference.

Formal announcement of the appointment was made from the White House, where it was indicated that the president felt he had formed the nucleus of a balanced delegation by choosing as the first members Senator Lodge and Secretary Hughes, whose selection to head the American representatives was made several days ago. Other members probably will not be chosen until it is determined definitely how many places each nation is to have in the conference.

Efficient Housekeeping

ANSWERED LETTERS

E. B. S.—I am writing to protest against your recently published line, in a recipe, read: 'Put your custard into empty milk bottles.' My husband and son are in the milk business and are constantly losing money because housewives use their bottles for such purposes."

Answer: You are quite right, reader friend, in writing to point out my thoughtlessness. It is an outrage for housewives to use milk bottles for such purposes, and I want to correct that part of my recently published recipe, right here, making it read: "Put your custard in preserve jars" instead of in milk bottles.

A Mother: "Will you please give in your column a list of presents which a boy of 17 would like as a birthday gift? It is always hard to select gifts for my boy. Kindly have the list range from the most to the least expensive."

Answer: A turning lathe, so that he can make articles out of wood, and a few necessary carpentry tools to go with the lathe; a camera with a developing outfit; a magic lantern to entertain his young friends; tennis net, tapes, racquets and balls, also wire staples to pin the tapes to a grass court, and a book of tennis rules (I will give you the address of a sporting firm from which you can buy such an outfit and book by mail if you will send stamped, self-addressed envelope for such information); a present of money sufficient to send him off to a boys' vacation camp for a week; a trip to some nearby point of interest; a fishing rod; a pup; a canvas tent which he and his boy friends can pitch in some tract of wood and camp out in; a good jack-knife; a punching bag for his room; books; lessons in something in which he is interested—perhaps a correspondence school course. You will note that all these things I have suggested, hinge on the idea of keeping the boy busy, which is the one great need of an active young person; if he has something to do, he's happy.

M. G. K.—"Will you please tell me what is meant by a 'rose jar' and how to make one?"

Answer: A rose jar is a fancy, wide-mouthed bottle (small and round) in which you have placed rose leaves and perfume. Rose jars are made for their fragrance and are generally kept in the living room, where they diffuse a delicate odor which is delightful. But the time to start making a rose jar is in June and early July when roses are abundant. However, I will give you the recipe for making one:

To Make a Rose Jar: Pick fresh rose petals and dry them in the sun for 2 days, then pack them in a wide-mouthed jar in layers with a sprinkling of ordinary table salt between each layer. When the jar is full, turn the petals out on a large sheet of paper and mix them thoroughly with this mixture (which any drug-store will put up): 2 drachms alcohol, 10 drops bergamot, 20 drops eucalyptus oil, 4 drops oil of roses, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1 ounceorris root, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon mace, 1 ounce any preferred sachet powder, and 3 drops oil of orange. Put the petals back into the jar, and the work is completed. Some rose-jars have perforated covers, some are perforated on the sides, but if you wish to use any jar you have, simply tip the cork or cover of it slightly so that the aroma may escape.

THE NEW GENERATION

BY JANE PHELPS

JOAN SHOOTS CRAPS WITH HER PLAYMATES

That rose sweater innocent enough in itself had awakened something new and urgent in Margaret Hayden. In proof she had laid it conspicuously over the chair which fronted her dressing table—but not until Joan had left for school.

All the time she was combing her hair she could see the becomingness of it as she leaned against the cushions. Just that made her look years younger, she thought idly. That morning, when she marketed, she bought new shades for her candles, and also for the side lights. They were of the same delectable shade of rose as was the sweater, which she had again carefully put away in Joan's closet where it belonged.

Margaret had relinquished her youth, but all suddenly she was clinging desperately to the attributes of youth. It shocked, it troubled her. Yet try as she would she could not shake free from the desire, nor could she forget the honest admiration of Gloria and Malcolm at Joan's party.

"They are nothing but children, pleased to see me in a bright color," she said to herself, knowing they had really noticed a difference in her, or they would not have mentioned her appearance at all.

"What pretty shades, Mumsie!" Joan exclaimed when she came in. "They will make me look nice. I read the other day that rose shades always were becoming."

"Yes especially to anyone a little pale," Margaret returned. Joan was rather inclined to paleness especially when tired, in which she resembled her mother. So Margaret was safe from criticism in saying what she did, although she flushed guiltily at the subtlety.

Some way Margaret realized that between her and Joan there would be always conflict. She had allowed Joan to grow up with new standards, new ideas, different manners. Superficially they seemed to have a totally different system of morality; a different standard of living. Smoking, going unchaperoned to dances and other parties, liberty of selecting her own reading, matter of attending all plays—all seemed commonplace to Joan, young as she was. But often Margaret was very shocked.

Yet in no way had she shown her feelings to Joan. Always when the child seemed on the verge of committing some impropriety the mother would cleverly lead her away from danger, and tactfully allow her to believe she herself had changed her own mind, uninfluenced.

Margaret had been generous with Joan in the matter of an allowance. But in this she had been a bit more the arbiter than in other things.

"We aren't wealthy, Joan, although if we are careful we have enough. You may do exactly as you like with what I allow you. But you must not run in debt or ask for more."

For a time all went well. Joan bought sundae, ice cream and candies for herself and occasionally treated the others. Once in a blue moon she bought tickets to the moving pictures—she cared very little for them, much to her mother's delight.

Then one afternoon—it was Saturday and Joan was at home from school—Margaret heard a great chatting and laughing on the porch. After a time she looked out. Several of the girls and boys were with Joan and they were shooting craps, for all the world like a parcel of Southern dandies, or New York newsboys—betting their nickels like little fiends!

Shocked Margaret withdrew without being seen. "Here was a new problem. She had told Joan she could do exactly as she pleased with her allowance. Evidently she pleased to shoot craps."

She studied over it a few moments, then fell back upon an unfailing device. She enlisted Hannah's aid, and made lemonade and sandwiches. There were delicious cakes in the house, so armed with the cooling drink, Hannah following with sandwiches and cakes, Margaret again approached the excited group.

"Can you interrupt your good time long enough to eat?" she asked.

"Indeed we can, Mrs. Hayden," Lonnie Carpenter returned.

"See Mumsie! I won most every time. I have almost doubled my allowance." Joan held out her fist full of nickels and dimes.

"Someone must feel rather as if you had too much."

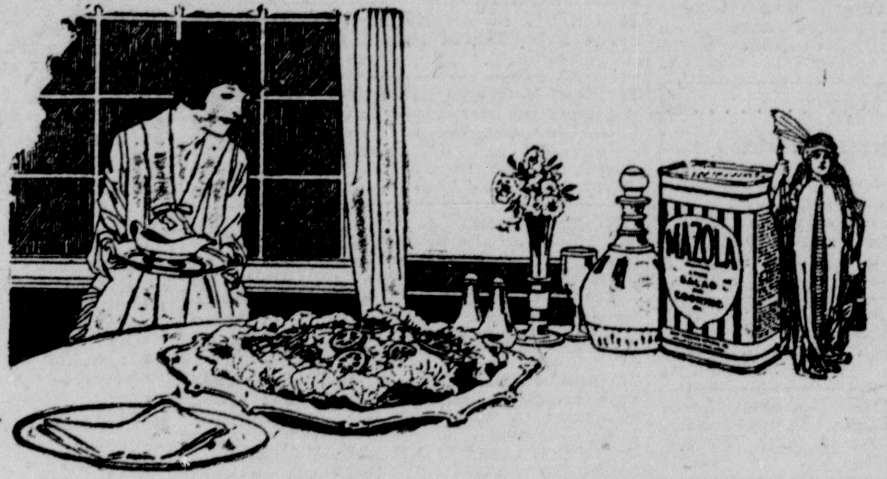

"I won it fair and square!"

"Yes dear, of course you did. Come now and play hostess."

They had flocked about the porch table, all talking at once. Margaret listened a moment, then left them to their own devices, sure there would be no more gambling that afternoon as Joan evidently had attached the greater part of the cash her guests had brought with them.

"What shall I do about it—Joan must not gamble." To Margaret's New England sensibilities, Joan would soon be confirmed in the habit if she could not devise some way to stop the indulgence.

Tomorrow—Joan Receives a Lesson.

Put it to the severest tests you can think of

Expert in Domestic Science will convince you about Mazola

OUR expert demonstrator will be at Adair's Furniture Store all this week, August 15-20 inclusive. Step in and let him prove to you the remarkable facts about Mazola. You could not spend an hour more profitably. Women's clubs, teachers organizations, and high school domestic science classes especially invited. Bring pad and pencil and take notes during the lecture.

For many years you have been hearing about the remarkable economy of Mazola—how it can be used for every cooking and salad purpose. More than seven million American women have proved, over and over again, that Mazola is richer and much more economical than butter in shortening for cake, pie crust and pastry. For Mazola is a 100% pure vegetable oil, and contains absolutely no water—as do butter and lard.

It is better than lard or ordinary cooking fats. Mazola never takes up flavors or odors—nor carries flavors or odors from one food to another. This is because it is heated to a higher temperature without smoking or burning than other cooking fats that the surfaces of the food are crisped over, and the rich juices are kept in.

This is why Mazola can be used over and over—until the last drop is gone—even after frying fish or onions. All you have to do is to strain it. Then you can use it for shortening the most delicate cake.

Mr. Shives will use a "Quick Meal" gas range in his demonstrations. Time 2:00 to 4:30.
